

Further resources – presenting findings

Academic Skills Centre, University of Canberra:

<http://www.canberra.edu.au/studyskills/writing/literature>

Bader, C, Boylan, H, Calderwood, B, Carriuolo, N & Simpson, M 2007, 'Special feature: advice for novice researchers who wish to publish their results', Journal of Developmental Education, vol. 31, no. 2. pp. 28-31.

This article briefly describes the various tips that researchers will find useful when considering publication of their works. It is also noted that not all works will be approved for publication. Researchers should not be discouraged should this occur and persist with their goals.

Baker, MJ 2001, 'Writing up and getting published', The Marketing Review, 2001 vol.1, pp. 441-471.

<http://www.themarketingreview.com>

Preparing a formal piece of writing for publication may be difficult. In this paper, some of those issues are addressed.

Serrant-Green L 2007, 'Novice researchers have a wealth of knowledge', Nurse Researcher, vol. 14, no. 4, p. 3.

This editorial provides novice researchers with encouragement with respect to the publication of their works.

Holden, R & Smith, E 2009, 'Practitioner researchers in vocational education and training', International Journal of Training Research, vol. 7, no. 2, pp. 134–144.

This article refers to the issues associated with VET practitioners who wish to pursue research and publish their work. It is noted in the article that further research is required in this area.